

I believe that the 5 WPM test is not too hard to do if you really want to operate on HF. I think that we need to keep the 5 WPM requirement for new licenses except for the Technician class license. The Technician class license already provides a good starting license into Amateur Radio. Please do not get rid of the 5 WPM requirement for first time Amateurs.